

ENTREPRENEURSHIP IS THE KEY TO SUCCESS (EKS)

September's Newsletter 2020

The project and all the partners have faced a difficult situation regarding COVID 19. Based on the current circumstances, the partners have decided that the virtual environment would work best for the development of the project. Therefore, all physical meetings related to the project were transferred to online meetings.

Thanks to the partners' constancy and expertise, the challenging conditions regarding the pandemic and the required changes in the working process didn't have an effect on the project's development. Everyone from the project consortium took the situation very seriously and the workflow continues in a very effective way in order for the essential product-EKS game to be delivered on time.

After the publication of the Complied EKS Report, the consortium has continued developing the scenarios for the virtual game of EKS. Taking into consideration the fact that the partners had to be extremely objective during the process of developing the methods of reporting the levels of the game and creating a criterion for evaluating the participants, they found this activity challenging and exciting.

Currently, a professional IT team is working on the coding and the progress of the design of the online game EKS. Moreover, the beta version of the online game EKS would be officially presented in October. The whole project consortium is extremely motivated and excited to demonstrate all the effort they have invested in this project and to present the first version of the online EKS game to the world.
